

naughty—and nice

Sibling rivalry meets holiday bustle in the comedy Fred Claus. Fred (Vince Vaughn) is the older brother of Nicholas, a.k.a. Santa (Paul Giamatti), who obviously got all the generous genes in the family. When Fred's behavior gets him in trouble, Nicholas agrees to bail him out—as long as he works off his debt by making toys in the North Pole. (Nov. 9, PG)

FEAR OF FLYING

With only 70% of flights arriving on time, holiday travel isn't always full of good cheer. Delays, bad weather and long layovers may leave your family stuck at the airport, but these cool attractions will help you while away your time in the terminal.

Orlando International

A 3,000-gallon aquarium with more than 100 fish.

Chicago O'Hare International

"Kids on the Fly," an interactive exhibit from the Chicago Children's Museum.

Hartsfield-Jackson Atlanta

Model-train exhibition, as well as a dinosaur skeleton from the Fernbank Museum of Natural History.

Nashville International

Three live stages highlight various genres of music.

Check out Cheapflights.com's Kids Airport Diversion Guide and Sidestep.com's Airport Guides for more ways keep spirits high while your family is in transit.

get on board

These new-and-improved family games appeal to multiple generations—and will keep the good times rolling long after the turkey has been gobbled up. —Anna Davies

PICK A CARD

Monopoly: Electronic Banking Edition

10 Days In Asia

The Game of Life: Twists and Turns

Scene It? Movie Second Edition

ROLL THE DICE

Monopoly enters the 21st century with high-tech debit cards, as well as new game markers like dog-in-purse.

Part puzzle, part geography lesson, this game requires players to get creative while traveling from point A to point B.

Make modern decisions about career and family with the help of an "electronic lifepod" that stores data. So no cheating!

Film buffs rejoice: This fast-paced pursuit mixes trivia challenges with scenes from Hollywood's latest flicks.

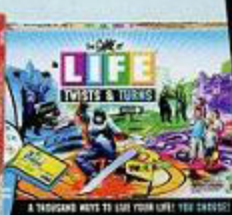

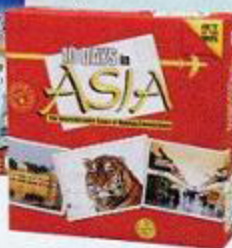

RULES OF PLAY

Ages 8+, hasbro.com, $35

Ages 10+, otb-games.com, $25

Ages 9+, hasbro.com, $35

Ages 13+, screenlifegames.com, $35

FC
stat

Nearly 75% of teens whose families talked about the importance of saving money set aside